It will be months before it can be known whenther the administration is fighting or bluffing the Beef Trunt in the federal courts, but the democrate in congress have asked the republicans to join them once, by repealing the duty on imported meat.

In platform decirrations against trusts the republicans are loud enough, but when it comes to action against them, they are quiet and motioniess.

At any rate, the administration is not now disputing that Filipinnos have been cruelly and lahumanly treated by American solniers. About the time the people vote it out of power it will prob ably cease to dispute the utter fail ure of its entire Philippine policy.
